Good Morning and Happy New Year! It is hard to believe that it is 2020 already! I hope you have had a good start to the week. As a reminder we will be stepping back into PLC next week on January 15th and 16th. I have looked over the agendas to see how I can best support your work as a colleague and have spoken with Mellissa to best identify where you see next steps. Mellissa stated that some formative assessment work might be beneficial and I will gladly support you in any shape or form with regards to the work. Most teams seem to want to focus on future units of study and reviewing post assessment data while looking at extensions and resources for their math units. Please let me know if there are additional teacher resources or something I might do for our teams. I look forward to collaborating with you next week.

Warm Regards,
