

C.H.O.R.E.S. Guided Notes

C	Recent news, well-known global issues
H	American History, International History
O	Extracurriculars, hobbies
R	In-school, Out-of-School Reading
E	Fiction, movies, TV, music, video games, pop culture
S and S	School sports, pro sports, science you've studied in school, things you've researched on your own

You CAN:	You SHOULD:
Use anything that comes to mind	Try to avoid going for or CHORES.
Use examples from fiction and games	Make sure most of your support comes from, not "make believe."
Use reasoning to support your argument	Steer clear of that veer into arguments
Draw from experiences you've had or seen	Only do this if your experience is really and out of the ordinary.

Where do GHORES come from?

- Constantly _____ for news, emerging science, history, etc.
- _____ in classes with your teachers and other students.
- Thinking about _____ you feel the way you do on certain topics. What _____ are you drawing upon?
