Bookaneer Book Fair This Week!

McCornack's Book Fair

Our pirate-themed Book Fair begins today and runs until Friday, November 18th. This is a wonderful way to support our school library and purchase some great books for your child. Parents & grandparents can also shop online this year. Just go to McCornack's homepage and click on the Book Fair link. Monies earned from the fair are used to buy new books for McCornack's library. Volunteers are still needed. You may sign up online, or stop by the office to sign up. Thank you to all parents and community volunteers who have worked so hard to bring this event to our school.

International Tea Approaching Soon

We will be planning for the much anticipated International Tea very soon. This is a very special December event that our 5th graders look forward to. We will be deciding on table themes, decorations and food to be served at this event. There will be many ways for parents/guardians to volunteer in order to make this event sparkle for our awesome fifth graders. A planning meeting date will be decided upon soon.

November Book Project

Students have been assigned a book project this month. They have been asked to select a book in the mystery genre to read over the next few weeks and will be creating a poster to summarize their books. Although we will be completing some parts of the project in class, students will also need to work on this project at home. Students should be reading their books for the next two-three weeks. The due date for this project is Wednesday, December 7th.

Reading Log Reminders

Fifth graders are required to read 100 minutes each week. Please make sure that they log their minutes and have a parent/guardian sign the log before turning it in on Friday.

Fall Family Fun Night

Please join us this Thursday, November 17th for McCornack's Fall Family Fun Night from 6:00- 7:30. Families can enjoy fun reading games, a delicious pasta dinner and shop the Book Fair.
