Subject: ELA CCSS 6 Shifts Workshop- REMINDER

Hello fellow classroom teachers and specialists,

Next week will be our last ELA CCSS 6 Shifts Workshop. We will be focusing on the shift: "Regular practice with complex text and its academic vocabulary."

There will be some planning and work time built into each session.

Please bring:

- A piece of text you plan on teaching in your next unit (or perhaps your next unit teachers manual). This can absolutely be a passage from a novel (3-5) or read aloud (K-2). It can be informational or literary. Consider a culminating task this text supports (an end of unit writing task?) This can be something you do individually, or as a grade level team.

*To provide some context, you will be engaged in some work to evaluate for text complexity, create questions for close reading, and scaffolding supports for text comprehension and culminating task completion. If possible, it will be helpful to use text for which you know the lexile level range, as this will be a piece of data we will evaluate. Specialists may want to collaborate with classroom teachers as to what text to bring or team up on.

Please use the sub code: Elementary English Language Arts Common Core State Standards

As always, workshop dates and times are on the Workshop Page of the 4J website.

Thank you for all the hard work you do everyday, and for taking the time to continue your professional development.

See you next week,

Gretta Sagolla
