Hello All,

State testing will be here before you know it and as of right now, it looks like a return to normal. We will have the mandatory testing training on 3/11 at 1:30 (location TBD). PLEASE put it on your calendar. There will not be the usual opportunities for make up training in other buildings. I promise to make it as brief as possible and there will be treats! In the mean time, below is the required reading with appropriate links for anyone wanting to get that out of the way. If you have EAs who will be in the room when testing occurs, they need to attend too.
