Hello staff,

Gingerbread house building will happen again this year! If you are new to Holt, you can check in with another staff member to get some details about the gingerbread night (PS it's also a great social event to hang out with our staff). All staff members are encouraged to participate, but it is a voluntary event. Below please find more details about the build.

The annual gingerbread creation event is almost upon us! Following please find the details for the building night and school raffle.

The decorating of the gingerbread house has been a long-standing tradition at Holt, dating back to it's beginnings with the holiday sing and raffle fundraiser of the houses. It has evolved over time, but does have some foundational elements that all teams need to be aware of for construction night.

Katie will (again) graciously host the event and provide:

boards for construction your house and scene gingerbread house (already constructed) icing (endless amounts; please let me know of color needs ahead if possible for planning - white is the standard) room, tables and chairs transportation of your house to school (help in transportation is always appreciated)

Team responsibilities:

an idea of what your team would like to create
all of your candy and food elements for your design (sometimes sharing with another team happens if you're lucky) carpool if at all possible- parking is tight don't leave your team hanging- bring your ideas and your candy tools you might need (knives, scissors, rollers etc)
Try to keep your creation winter, literature, movie, fun based. Teams try to keep their idea a secret from other teams until the night of the build. It's fun to see what's being created that night
Food and beverage to share that night (optional)

Rules:

*This is a current Holt staff only event. While we love our former staff, families members, and spouses, only current staff members may participate. Due to space (and our large staff) please leave spouses, former staff, or children of any age at home.

*ALL items used in construction MUST BE EDIBLE. This includes any understructures.

*All building must be completed the night of the event (some pre-assembly is fine, but all main building must finish that night)

*Teams of 3-4 people is about the recommended size. Too many people make it difficult to work in the areas and we want LOTS of houses to raffle off to the kids. Smaller teams are also acceptable

*Teams can be ANY combination of staff members. It does not have to be by grade level or department teams. Feel free to mix it up!

DO NOT TELL YOUR STUDENTS WHICH ONE you made until ALL voting is done and the Children's Choice is announced. We really want students to vote for their favorite house instead of their beloved staff members, so please keep your building/theme a secret until after the announcement of the Children's Choice

*All students will receive a voting ticket to place in the bag that goes with their house. All voting must be done Friday following the building event

*In the final week of school before break, winners will be pulled out of the ZAP spinner each day. Winners will get to select a house to take home.

*Ask your team about food and beverage contribution for the constructors on building night ;)

Time and date:

Thursday, Dec. 1st

5:30-8ish

Please see me or an "old" staff member (I guess that's me too!) if you have other questions.

Please have someone from your team let me know by Nov. 23rd how many people there will be for your team. Just email me how many in your team so Katie can plan for tables and chairs as well as an expected number of teams that will be building so boards and houses are ready. You do not need to tell me your idea for your build or who your members are.

This is s fun event for staff and students alike! If you have questions, please let me know.

Reminders, maps, and other details to come as it gets closer. Pictures of previous houses are in the staff room to inspire you!
