The bats get a white fungus on their noses, ears, and wings. Fungi are types of organisms that include molds, mildews, and yeasts. Some fungi can make animals sick.

Scientists do not know why the bats are dying. They have been trying to solve the mystery for more than a year.
"We're trying to find out what this fungus is and where it came from," says scientist Susi von Oettingen. She works for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. "We're trying to figure out if we can make the bats healthy again," she says.
