

OHSU UCEDD Advocacy and Building Community Program

The OHSU University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities (UCEDD) is now accepting applications for the 2021-2022 Advocacy and Building Community Program!

Program Details

The Advocacy and Building Community Program is for youth (ages 16-24) with intellectual and developmental disabilities who want to learn more about themselves, work with others, and explore the outdoors virtually or in-person!

This is a year-long program of online monthly group activities, virtual or in-person outdoor adventures and service learning projects.

Youth with disabilities will develop independence, self-determination, and leadership skills.

Application deadline: February 12, 2021.

Program Cost: $250 for the year-long program
Families with financial barriers are encouraged to contact the UCEDD to discuss options.
