Look at the label on a product that your family buys. You can use either a food label or a product made for cleaning. Find the place where the package describes the ingredient (or ingredients). Write the following four details, and keep the definitions of substance and mixture in mind when answering the questions:
1.	What is the name of the product?
2.	What is the product used for?
3.	Is the product a substance, or a mixtur	e?
4.	Why do you think the product is a subs	stance, or a mixture?
