

What makes an explanation
“scientific”?

- Scientific explanations are based on empirical observations or experiments
 - Empirical: based on sensory experience (see, hear, smell, taste, touch)

- Scientific explanations are made public

- Scientific explanations are tentative

- Scientific explanations are historical

- Scientific explanations are probabilistic

- Scientific explanations assume cause-effect relationships

- Scientific explanations are limited