Spirited Away Qs/As

1. Describe Chihiro's reaction to her parent's "feasting" at the beginning of the film.

Chihiro's reaction to her parent's "feasting" was like she was in a weird/ sort-of bad dream.

2. What was her first major challenge?

Chihiro's first major challenge was bathing the "clogged up" river spirit.

3. How did Chihiro handle her meeting with Yubaba when she went to ask her for a job?

Chihiro handled her meeting with Yubaba with a little fear and persistence.

4. How did she manage her duties in the bathhouse? Give at least 2 specific examples of what she had to do and what happened to her. Be sure to note any self-realization/new found awareness she may have had?

Chihiro managed her job at the bathhouse with confidence and kindness. Two examples of Chihiro's confidence and kindness are when she let the No Face in the bathhouse, and when she pulled the bicycle (etc.) out of the river spirit.

5. Describe Chihiro's connection with Haku – what made it so special?

Chihiro's connection with Haku was when she fell into the Haku River and Haku helped her.

6. How did Chihiro's personal growth help her relationship with Kamaji (the Boiler Man). What did he do for her?

Chihiro's personal growth helped her relationship with Kamaji when she was going to return Yubaba's twin sister's golden seal. Kamaji gave Chihiro his only four bus tickets to travel to Yubaba's twin sister's house.

7. Why was Chihiro able to confront and deal with the No Face spirit?

Chihiro was able to confront and deal with the No Face Spirit because she was the one who let him in.

8. Why wasn't Chihiro afraid of Yubaba's challenge to identify her parents at the end of the film?

Chihiro wasn't afraid of Yubaba's challenge because she remembered them.

9. Name at least 3 leadership skills Chihiro developed and/or recognized in herself over the course of the film. Be specific and give evidence in DETAILED answers.

Chihiro developed the skill of being brave, kind, and patient.

10. What 2 things did you like most about the film? Again, be specific and give detail.

I liked that there was a happy ending; I also liked that Yubaba's baby stood up for Chihiro.
