Elevator Speech

I'm doing my speech on the Oregon Duck football team. Why? Because in the last few years they have played some awesome football games, have been to the Rose Bowl twice, and have made it to the BCS National Championship game. My target audience is football fans who are looking for a great, awesome football game in Oregon or wherever they happen to be playing. I will be using pictures and script to show why I think you should come to the Duck's football games, and I plan to make the presentation 60 seconds long. I am going to get my pictures from Google Images. I hope you like my PSA, thank you.
